Adv.Asha Landge, Member of Maharashtra State Commission for Women,

The one because of her efforts and sponsorship this national Level seminar took place.

Talking on the topic she recollected that in the year 1993, the first pioneer of the People's Education society was done in existence of the Hon'ble Minister Ramdas Athavale. She expressed her concerned over the struggle of women to get justice. Stating the said injustices have been caused on women by way of Rape, molestation, cases like Nirbhaya, Kahurlanji, Kopardi etc which good publicity in media but there are still such insiders where the accused have no fear of judiciary and Law and Order. Though there are laws for protection of the women but still women are struggling. She also cited the provisions of Indian constitution which Art.14 which protects the equal rights and opportunities to the people and without discrimination. Hence it also safeguards the women from any kind of gender discrimination. She also highlighted the agenda of the women commission where women commission is in alliance with 400 organisations have been working on the women development and empowerment programs.

The Chief Guest of the Seminar Mr. Ramdas Athawale, addressed the gathering with his supportive words. Stating that the subject under the Seminar is very important. We all must understand that without women we can not move ahead. Even wherever there is more women contribution there is work and progress. He also expressed his feelings for not able to get the women Bill passed. The Hon'ble minister stated that women contribution in all the sector is required and even in parliament. If the more women are in parliament more efficient work can be done in parliament. The Hon'ble minister and his party is always in favour of women protection and empowerment and many, laws and schemes have been enacted by the government for the benefits of women, senior citizens. He also remembered Dr. Babasaheb fight for Hindu Code bill, and the struggle where Babasaheb faced discrimination in schooling at Stars, where he was asked to stay outside the class room, but due to contribution of Babasaheb now nobody can dare to say this to us. This change had been brought by Babasaheb.

The minister once again had given naara of Educate, agitate and Organise and have appreciated the efforts and work of the same way the People Education Society is running is on the same path. The minister also raised a concerned over the increase of the Sexual harassment and other heinous crimes against the women, where she is subjected to victimisation and even there are laws but only laws will not benefit. People have to change their mind-sets, and then only the situation will change. He also inspired women to fight for their rights and need to raise voice against injustice. The minister also assured that their government is supporting the women in all aspects to strengthen the women and to protect atrocities against the women and old age people.

Principal Dr. S .R. Kamble sir.

The welcome note was presented by the Hon'ble principal Dr. S.R. Kamble who welcomed the guest and participants. He has shown and expressed his deepest feeling towards the empowerment and encouragement of the women, and he is always supporting the women staff and students for initiatives, he also recollled the efforts of Babasaheb in strengthen the women. He referred the first women moment at New York. He expressed his feelings in initiative taken by women in bringing the change which was done in developed countries. And our constitution has given every women equal rights and a dream that they can reach up to any highest position in any sector of society. Citing the Vishakha Case the principal stated that the first women development cell was inaugurated in People's education society by then mayor Adv. Nirmala Sawant Prabhavalkar, it was the first cell formed in India. He also paid his homage to the great leaders like Mahatma Phule who brought all the deprived from all kind of bondages. The Hon'ble principal assures that he will always support and encourage such seminars for participation and encouragement of the women.

Mrs. Lalitha Dhara, the former Vice-Principal & HOD, Statistics Dept.

The professor presented the key note on the given topic. Wherein she had focused and elaborated the society and the historical background of the society, the patriarchal system and the society has been following the same. She also pointed out the discrimination actions faced by the women in her house, family, society. The challenges and choices, the women face after marriage, she pointed out that how the life of women totally changes after marriage, whereas the life of Men remained unchanged. She also raised a big question on how parenting also affects. The men and women have always been brought up unequal. She also expressed the need of ongoing project on women empowerment and encourage equal upbringing and raising boys and girl child equally. Stating the acts of rape are nothing but sexual terrorism. She also expressed her views in bringing zero tolerance level, towards discrimination. She also thanked Savitribai Phule and Mahatma Phule who took initiative for women education. She also highlighted the constitutional provisions to bring the equality in the society. The need to bring the inclusive efforts and the women empowerment is not only a gender limited issue.

The First of his session conducted by Dr. Gurudevi Huleppanavarmath, Asso. Professor, HoD, Department of English KLE Society's Lingraj College, Belagavi, on the topic of "Discrimination against women"

The Hon'ble speaker graced the first session with her immense knowledge and her practical experiences, very knowledgeable and enlighten sessions was conducted by the Dr. Gurudevi, her way and approach to bring to the notice the discrimination level involved in all the strata of the society and what majors can be used to know and understand the level of discrimination. The speaker had very artistically had expressed the kind of discriminations women facing in her day to day life and starting from the ancient areas, even considering the mythological aspects. Beginning from literature work, the women have been the only species animal is been discussed from history, even the artists, musician, have expressed through their views the women. While explaining she has given a very artistic example of the character of Shakespeare Portia, a women being a protagonist character how it has been portrayed as strong balanced women. She also talked about the mythology where Sita and Drupadi were also made to face such discrimination in the hands of men. The level of discrimination the natural resources, since women have no control over natural resources. The women have been considered as property where somebody has its ownership. Citing one reason she pointed out that women, wealth and land are being considered as an object to have ownership. She had also touched the discrimination involved where the Women have been deprived of property ownership rights, intellectual properties, conservative attitude of family members, society, even teachers shows such discrimination. There is a need to respect own self and protect own will and happiness women should be feeling proud about themselves and the women should have zero tolerance level and raise red flag against the discrimination. The speaker focused on majors on ideological resources for women. Explaining how body politics is played how women are been discriminated. Where even her own body is made as threat to her. Due to the societal norms attached. The speaker focused more on how a women should be focusing more on her own health where she needs to understand that dress for others and food for own self. Also suggested that the need to encourage the women to express themselves in verbal and in literature form, she also expressed need of time to learn the global skills, languages, that is English which will lead to make a women as global person. While again focusing on importance of knowledge she also stated that the knowledge liberates you form. Ultimately the speaker shared the importance of women being financially independent. Overall the discrimination level involved in the society and how women needs to understand the victimisation of women in the hands of society she had enlighten the need of liberation of women by women and to support other women is the best key against the discrimination.

The Paper Presentation was been conducted in presence of Dr. Tantarapale, HOD Zoology department Amaravati,

The first Paper Presentation was down by Ms. Nikita Varange who presented her paper on the topic of Women Empowerment and Women Entrepreneurship stating how those are tow different aspects and how women needs to be supported and encouraged to be an entrepreneurs by their families and even not only women even men need to participate in the upliftment of women. She had presented her paper based on research conducted by her with 100 women.

Mr.Suvarna Sasane she presented her paper in marathi on Domestic Violence against Women and how they are been subjected to violence whether it is Sexual, physical, mental and economical. And what are the legal majors to be taken to protect the violence.

Dr.Katare Sushanta, Latur

Also presented his paper on Domestic Violence against women. The first every women right was said was by Bhagavan Buddha who stood by for women rights in society. Thereafter Mahatma Phule, Savitri Bai Phule and Dr.BabasahebAmbedkar ,he quoted the words of Dr.Amartya Sen who had expressed the need to bring the revolution in Law and Social revolution in Violence against women.

Dr. Vishakha Patil,

A unique paper on Menstruation and Attitude of Indian society towards it. A very interesting and interactive session. Where even the men participated in understanding the issues of women menstruation and hygiene's. Indeed the research papers had been presented with great efforts and work on research on the said topic.Where she had focused the slum of Mumbai to conduct her survey. She stated in her paper even in today's time women have been discriminated and are facing untouchability during their menstruation, citing the example of sabarimala temple. She also need of awareness about the menstruation and sanitation and people should come open to remove all taboos attached to it and start speaking on such issues openly.

Prof. Ms .Swapanal Shinde,

While focusing on the women who wilfully choose to remain unmarried even after age of 25 to 30 and above, And how the government and society need to break the taboo, and to stopquestioning the character of women, who wish to remain unmarried. She suggested that single mother's and single unmarried women also be incorporated and policies be made for them. To acquire property on their own and even with respect to laws relating to child adoption where also being a women the difficulties are been faced by her. He expressed need to create awareness for health of women, behavioural changes is an important the health of women.

Prof.AkshayKamble.

The foremost focused on how sex and gender have been misunderstood, how women health is also an important aspect to be considered. He presented the paper a vital important topic of women health is that women have been subjected to anaemia. From long. The prof.focused his research in Gautam Nagar area, and had expressed her findings that there are numerous women, mother's, girls are suffering from lack of nutrition's and therefore suffering animia.It was appreciated because a male has initiated such topic and have presented his Paper.

Dr.Wankhede Madam,

In her concluding note she stated that "Women are self sufficient" while observing she had appreciated all the efforts put forth by the participants and acknowledged each participant's and their key aspects presented by them. Again pointing the need of awareness about women health issues. Where even Dr.Wankhede madam shared her experiences on working on the topic of women health issues.

Women in Corporate world & Women as role model :- By Sanjay Kshirsagar He had presented his views on the on the women as a corporate role model. His research Paper focuses on how the issues been faced by women to remain in corporate and sustain for long to be on top positions. He had also raised concerned on failure to produce as a society more role models, which very few women possesses female as role model. Even very few women are able to reach the top positions, due to the responsibilities enforced on them, he expressed his views as there is need of Breaking the barriers of wall and coming out as a strong women is the need of time. How he had concluded also citing the provisions of law made by Dr Babasaheb Ambedkar where women welfare is taken care legally.

The concluding note was given by Dr.Kranti Jejurkar, Formal Principal Siddharth College, A very dynamic personality, enlighten the seminar with her views on how only women are being subjected to discrimination. Basic right to urination, sanitation and hygiene she had raised, the issue of toilets for women. She had very effectively and practically suggested the need to raise voice against the discrimination because the path from equality from Inequality will take time and therefore to raise voice is the move towards the equality what Dr. Jejurkar expressed in her thoughts on the seminar.

Indeed it was a first of its kind seminar arranged in the college however a great response and participation and varied discussions. Ultimately every action needs to be first come into words, and expressed and it was a afford to give platform for new talent and issues to be discussed to give a different views and suggestions. Ultimate the goal to discuss on women issues and how women can be empowered from all the aspects was highlight of the seminar, hence it was a great successful seminar with a hope to bring the change in the society. It was a strong stone.

National Workshop on “Tips to Academic Writing” was organized by Ph.D. Research Centre, Dr. Ambedkar College of Commerce and Economics, Wadala Mumbai on 5th Feb., 2022 from 3 pm onwards through online mode.

Dr.Raj Soshte as Ph.D. Research Centre Co-ordinator and Convener of National Workshop welcomed and Introduce the resource person Dr. Jeyeshree G. Iyer, In-charge Principal of Dr. Ambedkar College of Commerce and Economics, Wadala Mumbai. and also welcomed participants. Dr. Raj Soshte also brief about the objectives of National Workshop and also motivated to all the participants and gave best wishes to the National Workshop.

The resource person explained the different types of writings for example: creative writing, blogging, narrative writing, journalistic, and academic writing. Each type of writing has its own set of rules. Academic writings main objective is to inform rather than to entertain. Features are formality, impersonality, structure and hedging. A very important fact to consider is the knowledge and background of your audience. You need to be able to back up your idea with strong and valid references. Why is academic writing important?

The Resource person also explained in detail about the clarity of writings and also analytical writings. Resource person also how academic writings importance and practical application of the same in writing of research papers and thesis, books etc. What precautions are required to take in academic writing also explained in simple and understanding manner?

During the technical session the participants were interacted with resource person and asked the numbers of doubts about good academic writings, all the queries were answered by the resource person. The guidance session was well received by 168 participants. Who found it was very informative & extremely useful in future too.

We are thankful for the support and cooperation of Our Management and I/C Principal Dr. Jeyeshree G. Iyer and all the members of organizing committee, as made grand success. Finally vote of thanks given by Dr. Raj Soshte convener of National workshop and workshop ended with National Anthem.
